

Gov. Williams Not Disclosing His 1954 Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington newsmen found out from Governor G. Mennen Williams what Michigan newsmen have known all along: Williams isn't retiring from politics, but isn't saying yet whether he'll run for reelection as governor of the Wolverine state or for U. S. Senator next year.

Williams told the news conference Democrats "have a definite opportunity" to win both the gubernatorial seat and the U. S. Senate seat that will be at stake in Michigan in 1954.

House Seats Eyed

Besides, the governor said if the election were held in the next few weeks, he believed the Democrats would have a change of picking up Republican House seats now held by Reps. Oakman (17th district), Kit Clardy (6th), George A. Dondero (18th), Ruth Thompson (9th), and John B. Bennett (12th).

Williams, apparently as a happy afterthought, added that Democratic chances might be improved all around by election time next November.

Discontent Reported

The Michigan Democrat also claimed that farmers are "discontented" with the national Republican administration and that the "Eisenhower labor voter has long since been disillusioned."

From his Friday round of conferences, Williams said he was "very hopeful" that Fort Custer would be chosen as the site for the proposed Air Force Academy. Air Secretary Harold E. Talbot, he said, "was really interested" in Fort Custer, an abandoned army post near Battle Creek.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell agreed, the governor said, to a Federal-state conference on the closing of 13 Michigan employment security commission offices.

His request that the Polish consulate in Detroit be closed was left "an open question" by Assistant Secretary of State Thurston B. Morton, the governor said.

Pentagon Trims Its Draft Calls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon, slashing its draft call for next February to 18,000 men, appeared today to be starting five months ahead of the originally contemplated schedule for cutting down the size of the Army.

The new call is 5,000 below the monthly calls which have continued since last July—and something far different from recent statements by some Pentagon manpower experts that monthly quotas might be hiked to about 37,000.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, however, was not one of those who made such statements. It was Wilson who announced the new February draft calls Friday and it also was Wilson who on July 21 said, in answer to news conference questions, that he thought calls could be dropped to 15,000 or 18,000 with a truce in Korea.

Dulles Attends NATO Conference In Paris

PARIS (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles arrived in Paris today for a meeting of the Nato council of ministers and expressed the hope that the Soviet Union would abandon its "dilatory, delaying tactics."

"We hope that they (the Russians) will participate in the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting at Berlin on Jan. 4, a meeting of the Foreign Ministers that we have been trying and trying to get," Dulles said.

Bishops Attack Accusations And Name-Calling

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—Bishops of the Methodist Church have united in a solemn attack on "irresponsible accusation" in the United States.

"There are people—some of them in our church—who are being made to believe false statements about their leaders until the human mind is filled with suspicion and the human spirit is shackled," the churchmen declared Friday.

Areas of freedom of speech and thought are being narrowed all over the world, the bishops said, adding:

"In Communist hands thought control uses the techniques of absolute censorship, spying of secret police, torture, imprisonment and death.

"In our land, where we protest against such types of control, self-appointed guardians of the liberties we want for ourselves and all men may, by the calling of names, unfounded accusations, and the assertion of guilt by association, destroy the priceless heritage they claim to defend."

In such an atmosphere, said a statement drawn up by the Council of Bishops at a meeting here, "suspicion becomes fear, fear becomes hatred, and hatred sets a man against his neighbor, friend and brother."

Severed Siamese Twins Year Old

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's separated Siamese twins reach their first birthday Monday, and except for a small scar they are just the same as any other little babies.

"They play and say 'da-da' like any other children," said Dr. Earl E. Smith, pediatrician for the two girls, Nancy and Ellen. "No one would know there was anything unusual about them."

Their birthday will be something of a medical milestone. It will be the longest time that both members of a Siamese pair have survived a severing operation in the abdominal area.

Nancy and Ellen—their last names never have been revealed—were joined where the chest and abdomen meet by a band of flesh one and a half inches thick. No vital organs were involved and the band was cut a few hours after they were born.

Check Stealer Pleads For Prison Term So He Can Avoid Temptation

CHICAGO (AP)—James A. Griffith, 34, pleaded to Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe Friday: "Get me off the street because the temptation to steal checks is too great."

"I'll do that," the judge told Griffith and sentenced him to two years in prison.

Griffith surrendered to postal inspectors and admitted he stole a $6 government check from a mail box.

He told them: "Because this is Christmas time and many people will be receiving checks they need, I want to get off the streets so I won't cause unhappiness for others." Inspectors said he had served two prison terms for stealing checks from the mails.

Tall Gunman Arrested In Kidnap-Robbery Of Young Texas Couple

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—A tall, slender gunman was arrested in the kidnaping and robbery of a young Texas couple as he attempted to thumb his way from a posse-filled area Friday night.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Don Matthews of Dallas, were forced at pistol point to drive 292 miles from Dallas Wednesday night. Matthews said his wife, who is pregnant, was raped twice by the gunman while the husband was imprisoned in the car's trunk.

Prosecutor Joe Cox said 22-year-old Donald Joseph Sutcliffe of Detroit, Mich., has said he forced his way into the Matthews car, made them drive to this area and robbed them. Cox said he denies the rape accusation.

Korea Peace Negotiations Broken Off By U. S. Envoy

Vice President Nixon Brings In Report On Visit To 21 Countries

By RUSSELL BRINES

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon returns to Washington Monday with a fresh bird's-eye view of Asia and the Middle East and a report for President Eisenhower that may recommend a review of some aspects of American policy toward this explosive part of the world.

But the vice president, after an intensive 10-week trip, is expected to strongly support nonrecognition of Communist China, a continued military buildup in the Far East and other major points of present U. S. policy.

Over 45,000 Miles

Nixon, accompanied by his wife, has traveled over 45,000 miles in swift but revealing visits to 21 countries between New Zealand and Africa.

The vice president has gathered for Eisenhower perhaps the most comprehensive survey of the Pacific area, Far East, south Asia and a slice of the Middle East ever collected by a top-ranking American official. It covers everything from mews on Indian Prime Minister Nehru to the operation of American overseas libraries.

Nixon has given no public indication of his own views, but there is evidence he may recommend some changes in the approach to Asiatic problems and perhaps some alteration of such technical operations as the U. S. information program.

Two Touchy Issues

He already has reported to the White House on two of Asia's most immediate issues:

1. The possibility that France may conclude a truce in Indo-China on terms American officials fear would permit Communist-trained Vietnamese leader, Ho Chi Minh, to win political control of the peninsula.

2. The necessity for an early decision on whether to grant military aid to Pakistan. Agreement on such a program would mean a new tough policy toward Nehru's government, which strongly opposes any arms aid to India's northern neighbor.

Communist China and Russia have chimed in with their own protests against any U. S. military help for Pakistan. The Peiping government delivered a formal protest note to Karachi yesterday, following up an identical note by Moscow Oct. 30.

Attacks Get Ruder

(In Washington, a state department spokesman said there would be no comment before cable reports of the break-off had reached the capital and officials had a chance to study them.)

Dean's walkout ended a 5 hour 45 minute session, the longest since the talks began Oct. 26.

The Reds became "ruder and ruder, more and more insulting and more arrogant" as the long session wore on, Dean said.

"It was evident," he added, "that they wanted to become so rude and so arrogant as to force discontinuance of the talks."

He said the Communists may have wanted to break off the negotiations because they want "to escape their responsibility under the armistice agreement for a unified Korea."

"It is obvious that they are now doing everything they can to prevent the unification of Korea," he added.

Talks Deadlocked

Shortly after the record session opened Dean accused the Communists of holding American and South Korean war prisoners as slave laborers in China and Manchuria.

Dean told newsmen he and President Syngman Rhee of South Korea reached an agreement in talks Friday on a course for the preliminary peace negotiations. He said he reviewed the progress of the talks during the past week and "Rhee and I saw completely eye to eye on the preliminary talks."

Dean added, however, that Rhee reserved some doubts about inviting neutral nations to the conference.

The deadlocked talks have been tottering for weeks. Neither the Allies nor the Reds would budge from their position on the role Russia will play in the peace conference.

Red China and North Korea have insisted that the Soviet Union attend as a nonvoting neutral observer. Dean has refused to retreat from his insistence that Russia attend as a full participant, bound by the terms of a treaty if one is signed.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Thirteen persons, including one American and India's leading anti-Communist labor leader, died today in the flaming crash of an Indian airliner near Nagpur.

Reports from the scene identified the American victim as J. B. Von Maltzan but the U. S. embassy in New Delhi listed him as F. B. Von Maltzan, a naturalized American. His home address was not immediately available. The embassy said Von Maltzan was formerly employed by the Continental Ore Corp., of New York.

Dean Walks Out As Reds Repeat Filthy Insults

By FORREST EDWARDS

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur Dean abruptly broke off negotiations to set up a Korean peace conference today and angrily walked out in the midst of a marathon Communist harangue.

Dean said the final straw was a charge that the United States connived with South Korea in the release of 27,000 anti-Red Korean war prisoners from Allied stockades last June.

Up To Communists

Dean said he treated the Communist charge "as a reason to break off the talks."

"I said they had accused my government of perfidy and that unless it was withdrawn I would interpret it as a motion on their side to indefinitely recess," the U. S. envoy told newsmen.

He emphasized that only a direct request from the Communists, coupled with a full retraction of the charge, could get the seven-week-old preliminary peace negotiations under way again.

Asked if he was going to Washington, he replied: "I don't know."

It was reported Friday that the spokesman for 17 nations which fought in Korea probably would return to the United States before Christmas, leaving the stale-mated negotiations in charge of his chief assistant.

Eastern Democrats Drum Up New Hopes For Victory In 1954

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Democrats from the East kicked off a victory-in-'54 rally today, stoutly backing Adlai E. Stevenson's claim that party prospects are looking up.

Echoing the "fair and warmer" reading of the Democratic political barometer by the 1952 presidential nominee, Pennsylvania's Democratic national committeeman, Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, confidently proclaimed:

"There is a trend back to our party."

Republican Grip Shaky

Lawrence and other party leaders said the Democrats are sure to pry loose in next year's vital congressional elections the shaky Republican grip on the House and may recapture control of the Senate.

Democratic strategists said they have soaring hopes of snatching half a dozen or more seats from the GOP in 11 East Coast states alone.

Democrats from these states and the District of Columbia are here to whip up party pep, raise cash for the coffers and listen to a Stevenson speech which will be nationally televised and broadcast at a $100-a-plate banquet tonight.

Six more seats from this region would be enough in themselves to upset the present House lineup of 219 Republicans, 215 Democrats

Balky American
POWs Up Next

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Six of the 22 American war prisoners who stayed with the Communists are to appear Monday before fellow Americans who will try to talk them into coming home.

The 22 balky Americans and 1 Briton are reported to have promised to meet with U. S. persuaders.

"They will come out," said Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission. "I am quite sure they will come out."

The U. N. Command abruptly switched from interviews with South Korean prisoners after Red stalling tactics forced suspension of the sessions for the second straight day.

The unexpected Allied move came as U. S. envoy Arthur Dean broke off negotiations to set up a Korean peace conference and announced that no further meetings would be held unless the Communists withdraw a charge made against the United States.

The Reds accused the United States of plotting with the South Korean government to release 27,000 Korean War prisoners from Allied stockades last June.

McCarthy Hunts Subversives In Secret Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—An aide to Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) says Project Lincoln, a supersecret study of how to keep America safe from atomic attack, is being probed for subversives by the Senate investigations subcommittee.

The Boston Post, in a copy-righted story, reported that such an investigation was under way. Francis P. Carr, executive staff director of McCarthy's committee, confirmed Friday night that Project Lincoln is among defense establishments in the Boston area under investigation.

The project uses facilities of Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge.

Tighter Laws Wanted

There were, meanwhile, these other developments in McCarthy's investigative activities:

1. He said in an interview he will make several proposals for tightening federal espionage and subversion laws when he and other Republican lawmakers confer with President Eisenhower next week.

2. He said also he is asking the Army to investigate "unresolved questions of loyalty" he contends have been raised about Telford Taylor, former war crimes prosecutor and World War II brigadier general.

3. The subcommittee's search for evidence of spying at the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., radar laboratories will be resumed in New York City, probably running daily Monday through Thursday. Taylor may be called as a witness.

The Boston Post quoted an unidentified subcommittee source as saying the Project Lincoln investigation is an outgrowth of the Ft. Monmouth probe.

Reds Given Jobs

4. McCarthy announced Friday night he has received a list of about 125 persons he said had been Communists in Germany and later found jobs in the office of the U. S. high commissioner of Germany through "infiltration."

Project Lincoln has been under way since August 1951 but its existence was disclosed only last March. MIT reported to the National Security Council, the government's top defense planning body, that the United States could build a truly effective air defense for about 20 billion dollars. But it made no recommendation that such an effort be undertaken. Details of the report have never been made public, although an Air Force spokesman has said some of its recommendations have been adopted, others rejected.

McCarthy said he will make his legislative recommendations when he and other Republican congressional leaders and committee chairmen sit in at White House discussions Dec. 17-19. The conference will consider the administration's 1954 legislative program.

The other two papers struck by the AFL photo-engravers, the World Telegram and The Sun and the Post, do not publish Sundays.

The Herald Tribune, not struck by the engravers since it has a contract with a commercial engraving plant, expects to publish a record-breaker of its own with a main section of more than 100 pages.

Report Shows Polio Funds Spent In U.P.

Since 1938 a total of almost $300,000 in March of Dimes has been spent or allocated to be spent in the Upper Peninsula in the fight against polio, a disease which last year reached an all-time peak in this region and threatened this year to surpass the 1952 mark.

This total does not include cost of conducting the mass gamma globulin prophylaxis in Marquette County last summer, a project which is estimated to have cost in excess of $300,000 for the serum alone and was credited with substantially surbing the county's polio epidemic.

Figures compiled recently by the Marquette office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis show that $390,461 has been raised in March of Dimes drives in the Northern Peninsula's 15 counties from 1938 to Aug. 1, 1953. Of this amount, $278,960 has been retained by the 15 county chapters to be used locally for treating polio cases. In addition four counties completely exhausted all funds raised locally and received further funds from the foundation's national headquarters to help combat polio. Funds forwarded to the four U. P. counties from national headquarters totalled $12,371 over and above any funds they had previously submitted.

More Aid Requested
Since last August additional funds (not included in the above figures) have been sent from national headquarters to Houghton, Ontonagon and Menominee counties and further funds are being

Marinette Man Held As Driver Of Death Car

MARINETTE — A 21-year-old Marinette resident is being held in connection with the traffic death of Walter C. Topel, 38, of Marinette, who was fatally injured Saturday night when struck by an automobile on Hall Ave.

Topel died at Marinette General hospital Tuesday morning. District Attorney Harry White said that Allan C. Pearson, 21, of 1007 Jackson St., was in custody on an open charge and later was to be arranged in Marinette police court on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and failure to stop and render assistance to an injured person.

The district attorney also said the investigation of the accident is being continued and other charges may be lodged upon completion of the probe. Details of the questioning of Pearson were not released. Police investigation connected Pearson with the case, it was reported, and his car has been impounded.

An inquest started Tuesday will be pursued, Attorney White said. A coroner's jury yesterday viewed the body and the inquest was adjourned to a later date. An autopsy was also performed Wednesday.

requested from New York by Chippewa, Gogebic, Luce and Iron Counties.

Ordinarily, half of all funds raised in the March of Dimes drives held each January are retained for local use by the respective chapters. The other 50 per cent is sent to national headquarters to be used (1) for polio research and (2) for distribution to epidemic areas where the polio case load is so large that funds retained by the local chapters are insufficient to cover expenses for treatment.

The four counties which received advances from national headquarters over and above the amount of local collections since 1938 are Mackinac, $5,886; Luce, $2,332; Chippewa, $3,723; and Ontonagon, $430. In each of these counties polio made heavy inroads at one time or another during the period since 1938.

Marquette County Higher
In the other counties, the local chapter retained 50 per cent or more of its March of Dimes collections, except from Baraga (which has retained 41 per cent), Gogebic (47 per cent) and Iron (48 per cent). Each of these three counties had surpluses in the March of Dimes coffers and so were able to contribute more than 50 per cent to national headquarters, the extra funds being used to help polio distress areas in other parts of the nation.

Marquette County is the only one which has maintained an exact 50-50 division of funds with national headquarters. The county chapter has retained $29,321 and forwarded a like amount to the national organization.

Marquette County's collections from March of Dimes drives since 1938 also are the highest for any county in the Upper Peninsula on a strictly volume basis, although not on a per capita basis. In total collections other counties follow Marquette in this order: Houghton, $47,904; Delta, $46,486; Gogebic, $44,593; Dickinson, $35,519; Menominee, $32,344; Chippewa, $26,499; Iron, $21,017; Baraga, $14,030; Alger, $13,820; Schoolcraft, $13,315; Ontonagon, $11,590; Luce, $9,977; Mackinac, $8,179; and Keweenaw, $6,754.

Radar-Caught Speeder Just Has To Be Shown

ST. LOUIS — Robert Wain pleaded innocent to speeding on the radar-controlled express highway "because I want to learn how a machine could pick out my car and record its speed."

So a patrolman took the witness stand in City Court Thursday and explained how a radar beam recorded on a graph the speed of Wain's car and how the license number was radioed to a waiting officer ahead.

"But," said Wain, "there was a car right behind me which was going even faster and passed me." "That's all right," the policeman replied. "We got him too." "I'm convinced," Wain said. "Judge, I change my plea to guilty." He was fined $15 and costs.

Delta County 4-H Club Program Is Expanding

Most old 4-H clubs in Delta County are as big or bigger this year than last year, 4-H agent Fred Bernhardt has reported. With a new club organized in Fayette and another in Flat Rock, and a new Escanaba club in full operation for the first time after rudimentary operation this summer, the total of Delta boys and girls in 4-H work in the coming year should exceed last year's total, Bernhardt said.

The 4-H agent noted that 433 boys and girls participated in 4-H work during the past year, and completed 727 projects, an increase of 150 projects over the previous year. On 4-H records the year is reckoned from Dec. 1 to Nov. 30.

The biggest increase was in clothing projects, with 50 more projects than the year before, Bernhardt said. Home demonstration agent Ingrid Tervonen, who trains the girls' 4-H club leaders, noted that this meant there were 50 more girls doing these projects than the year before.

"Deer Yard" Club
Bernhardt sketched briefly some of the activities in which Delta 4-H clubs will be engaged this winter.

A "deer yard" study club will be organized in Ford River, he said. The club will study such matters as the economics of deer hunting—how much money it brings into the area, deer populations and habits.

Highlight of the year for this club will be a trip to a deer yard, if there is enough snow to bring these yards into existence. The 4-H agent explained that when the snow grows deep, the hungry deer "yard up" where there is food, usually in the cedar swamps.

In a winter without much snow, the deer might not yard up at all, he said. In a winter when the heavy snow comes early, the deer yard up early, eat out the swamps, and then die of starvation.

In the late winter, he said, a man can count deer by the droves in the cedar swamps.

When 4-Hers travel to a deer yard, they count deer, and observe feeding conditions.

Dairy And Beef Programs
Most popular boys' program is the woodworking program, Bernhardt said. The boys organize in clubs and usually work in somebody's basement or in the town hall. Primarily the purpose is to learn to use tools, Bernhardt said. The first year, boys work with such tools as saw, square and hammer, and make birdhouses, blocks, breadboards and so on. Older boys get into furniture items such as desks and chairs.

"Then our dairy and beef program runs through the winter too", Bernhardt said. The beef program is a fattening project, and 4-Hers have bought their animals already in preparation for the U. P. State Fair next year. In the U. P. fair this past August, Delta County sisters took both grand and reserve championships in the FFA-4-H fat stock show—Lorraine La Marche of Newhall taking the top honor with her

Boys Admit Thefts From Danforth Store

Two 16-year-old boys have admitted several breakings and enterings of the Gene Makosky store in Danforth, Sheriff William Miron has reported.

Judge William Miller, judge of the juvenile division of probate court, was scheduled to hear the boys' case this morning.

Over $200 in cash was taken from the store in seven or eight breakings and enterings, the sheriff said. Cigarettes were taken also.

The lead in the case came when Makosky, coming home one night about midnight, saw one of the boys coming out of his home, which is attached to the store.

steer which went from 640 to 1,370 pounds in 300 days of heavy feeding, and Carol La Marche taking the reserve championship.

In the dairy program, "our kids average about two animals apiece," Bernhardt noted. Some 4-Hers, in the program a long time, have four or five animals. Throughout this winter a monthly meeting is being held, to which all dairy project members and their parents are invited. The meetings are held in a different place each time, with meetings held in Rapid River, Danforth and Cornell so far.

Girls' Clothing Projects
Such matters are covered as the economics of dairy farming, with the next meeting set to discuss who sets the price of milk; feeding of dairy cattle (a meeting on this is scheduled for January); the raising of calves; and dairy judging.

The biggest single winter activity is a girls' project, clothing, the 4-H agent said. To satisfy project requirements, girls in their first year hem a towel, and make an apron or a very simple skirt. In their second year they make a cotton dress.

In their third year, home demonstration agent Tervonen noted, girls make another, more complicated dress. Some girls go beyond these basic project requirements. "Some of the kids make practically all their own clothes," Miss Tervonen said.

The girls in sewing projects aim toward spring achievement day, to be March 27 in 1954, when there is a style revue.

Said 4-H agent Bernhardt of the clubs in Delta County: "Most of the clubs are very enthusiastic . . . That's what makes it go."

Motorist Drops Lighted Cigaret; Three Cars Crash

A lighted cigarette that fell inside his car brought damage to three automobiles and a ticket to William L. Young, 24, of 403 Michigan Ave., Gladstone.

The series of events went in this order, according to Escanaba police:

Young, driving in the 200 block, Ludington, at 12:01 a. m. today dropped the cigarette in his car.

While he was looking for the cigarette he lost control of his car and it struck an auto parked in front of the House of Ludington. The car was owned by William J. Schmitt, 808 S. 10th St.

The impact pushed Schmitt's car into a second parked auto owned by Clairmont Transfer Company and used by John Abreo of Kansas City, Mo.

Police were summoned and issued a ticket to Young for failure to have his car under control.

Soviets Reveal Indifference To Betterment Of Humanity

THE Russian reaction to President Eisenhower's proposal for a world atomic pool for the benefit of humanity everywhere is indicative of the Soviet attitude of indifference to humanitarian causes.

Officially Soviet Russia has not yet responded to Mr. Eisenhower's proposal. But the Moscow radio's denunciation of the proposal is official enough for anyone familiar with the Russian dictatorship. There is no free speech in Russia and when the Moscow radio denounces the Eisenhower plan, it is because the Kremlin itself is opposed.

Andrei Vishinsky, the U. S. S. R. delegate to the United Nations, likewise voiced antagonism of the President's proposal. Vishinsky certainly would not have spoken negatively unless he was certain of the official Russian attitude.

The Moscow radio, spreading its special Soviet brand of hate, accused President Eisenhower of threatening atomic war. Anyone on the millions of people in this country and abroad who heard the President of the United States in his address to the United Nations knows that Mr. Eisenhower was not threatening atomic war but rather was inviting world cooperation for a plan that would serve to prevent it.

It is not difficult to understand why it is impossible to bring about a condition of world friendship and mutual understanding. The Russians, who control a large portion of the world, refuse to cooperate in any plan to break down the barriers to world peace. The Soviets want a world divided, a world bristling with tensions, suspicions and mistrust.

Unfortunately, because of world tensions and the threat to world peace, the scientists of the world have devoted far more of their time and talents to the development of warlike applications of atomic power, rather than peacetime uses of atomic energy. Mr. Eisenhower's proposal would have reversed this trend. He proposed that a united effort be made by every nation to develop peacetime uses of atomic power for the benefit of all mankind. This is the plan that Russia denounces, accusing the President of threatening atomic war.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Let's try another of our week-end spelling bees. Since we cannot have an old-fashioned "spell-down" because there is just no way to assemble all the thousands of readers in one great auditorium, let's pit our wits—and our spelling ability—against a standard of comparison and see how we score.

The following nonsense paragraph contains ten misspelled words. See how many you can spot. If you get all ten, of course, you have nothing to worry about concerning your spelling. Eight or nine correct is a good score. Six or seven indicates that you need to brush up on your spelling. Fewer than six means that you had better start using your dictionary more frequently and make a conscientious effort to check every unfamiliar word you come across in your reading. That way you'll be able to score higher next time.

Now here is the test:
"The very thought of inoculation was repellent to an old-time medico like Dr. White. 'This plaguy ailment will never get the better of me,' he avered. 'It may harass me for a week or two but I shall achieve relief without resorting to even occasional infections.' Extraordinary though this soliloquy sounded, he was in essence only paying obeisance to the code of his forbears. A long siege of illness was unthinkable, maintenance of health being imperative to one of his temperament and upbringing."

ANSWERS (with the pronunciations of each word):

1. inoculation (in-ok-yoo-LAY-shun)
2. averred (uh-VURD)
3. harass (HAIR-us, huh-RASS)
4. achieve (uh-CHEEV)
5. soliloquy (suh-LIL-uh-kee)
6. obeisance (oh-BAY-suns)
7. forbears (FOR-bairs)
8. siege (SEE)
9. maintenance (MAYN-tuh-nuns)
10. temperament (TEM-pruh-m'nt)

Christ's Gospel and Our World

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The person of any Christian pretensions would be dull and hopeless indeed if he were not deeply troubled with the contrast between the peaceful mission, purpose and message of Jesus and the condition of our world.

That condition appears perilous with the realization that for the first time in human history man has apparently within his power a total destructive force.

There is, of course, still much questioning as to how real this threat of an atomic destruction may be.

When we turn, however, to the discrepancy between this world as it exists and the Gospel of Him whom we call "The Prince of Peace" all doubt and questioning subside into sad and tragic realization.

This is not a world of peace in which the Christ has conquered, however much He may have conquered in the hearts and souls of many believers.

Among these sincere believers in the Prince of Peace, however, there is also a great discrepancy in practical attitudes as they face the teaching of Jesus, and the problem of peace in a warlike world.

Some, whom I would call non-resistants, rather than pacifists, for all true Christians are pacifists, even those who engage in war on behalf of peace against violence and aggression, believe in the literal following of the Master's command to resist not evil.

Others, as I have suggested, take the more common attitude of supporting their governments and people against attack, of meeting violent aggressors with adequate measures of protection.

Either way, I think the Christian is faced with a dilemma, and a problem in which he can find little satisfaction. In my own life I have felt strongly the inclination toward nonresistance.

It is so easy to accept a principle of individual action, to say that if all men were taking my attitude there would be no war, or to make one's individual protest through nonresistance.

But I have never been able to adopt the attitude of nonresistance. The sufferings and sacrifices of those who have fought for and defended their country, as I see it, have been far greater than the inflictions upon non-resistants, much as I deplore the persecuting zeal of professional patriots.

I think of aggression and violence much as I think of threatening epidemics of disease. The gospel of good health, the preparatory measures of sanitation, are of the utmost importance. But when an epidemic breaks out one would not think of meeting it by a profession of the principles of good health.

Firm, stern, physical measures are necessary. And the same thing is true, I think, of that epidemic of warlike aggression.

But, unfortunately, that is not all the story. Peaceful measures and preparations for defense so easily become a matter of vast military preparation and the accoutrements and philosophy of the war we so greatly deplore.

So the dilemma, in a measure, is unavoidable. But we can live in the spirit of peace, and live and hope and pray for peace, and believe in the Christ, who has conquered, but who has still much more to conquer.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Grumpy Winston Churchill groused and grumbled backstage over Ike's atomic-energy speech, because it emphasized Bermuda do-nothingness. But actually the speech should be a great break for England . . . what England needs most is cheap power. Her coal, once the backbone of British factories, is getting low. Iranian oil has been taken away. But cheap atomic power could revolutionize British industry . . . England and U. S. A. were ready to swap atomic secrets once again, just before the Harry D. White expose broke. This made Ike shy away from it, (bad political reaction.) However, if Russia turns down the atomic-energy pool—as expected—the United States and England can go full-steam ahead . . . Australia, France, Belgium and South Africa would also be included in an atomic pool of raw material and scientific information operating just as the automobile companies swap new patents.

Lanky, publicity-minded C. D. Jackson, the White House psychological expert, masterminded the U. N. atomic energy speech. The speech was written and rewritten so many times, Jackson described it privately as a "mice nest"—nothing much left of it but tatters . . . he argued first that it must be delivered, second that it must be delivered dramatically, so the entire world would listen. Hence the idea of cutting short the Bermuda conference and the brilliant idea of flying direct to New York . . . This also served to cover up the futility of the Bermuda meeting which Ike never wanted in the first place and which was held only "to please Winston." . . . Churchill finally accepted the atomic speech only after Anthony Eden insisted. To please Winston, Eisenhower toned down portions referring to H-bomb damage in Europe, or rather he let Churchill tone it down. Both Churchill and Premier Joseph Laniel called attention to the fact that American atomic cannon were already in Europe and there was no use scaring Western Allies with too many headlines on the holocaust of hydrogen warfare.

ARMY AND SCHOOL BUSES

White House advisers are walking on eggs since the New Jersey supreme court handed down its decision that the Protestant St. James Bible could not be distributed in schools even when parents request in writing that their children have it. The court ruled that this infringed on the separation of church and state.

Reason for White House skittishness is what happened across the Potomac River at Fort Myer, Va., recently.

There, the commanding officer, Col. Donald Galloway, has been using government-owned and -operated buses to transport Catholic children to parochial schools. About 100 Catholic children of Army officers and enlisted men at Fort Myer have been transported daily across the river to Catholic schools in Washington, or to Arlington, Va.

However, Defense Department economy moves, plus belief that no one religious group should benefit from the use of federal money to the exclusion of others, caused an order that the bus service be stopped. The order to Colonel Galloway came from the Pentagon.

Within a matter of hours, the White House stepped in, countermanded the Pentagon's order. Colonel Galloway was told to continue the transportation of Catholic children.

Importance of the incident lies in the fact that the Army was preparing to cancel all bus transportation for Catholic schools at all Army posts, partly for economy, also in accord with earlier court rulings for separation of church and state.

The New Jersey court ruling that a Protestant Bible cannot even be distributed in schools where parents request it has heightened the issue. The Army is passing all queries on to the White House.

WARREN V. SEGREGATION

Those watching the vital Supreme Court debate over segregation figure that the death of Chief Justice Vinson and the appointment of Earl Warren may possibly spell the difference one way or the other. Chief Justice Warren's record as governor of California shows that he is likely to vote against school segregation.

In San Bernardino, Calif., when a Catholic priest of Mexican ancestry was barred from a public park, Governor Warren acted promptly. Writing to U. S. Appeals Court Judge William Denman, he said: "I do not see how we can carry out the spirit of the United Nations if we deny fundamental rights to our Latin-American neighbors."

Warren also appointed a Negro, Walter Gordon, as chairman of the vitally important California parole board. Warren had played football on the same team with Gordon at the University of California.

INSIDE THE PENTAGON

Secretary of Defense Wilson has been scoffing privately at reports of Russian military might. Trouble is that his attitude is based on intuition, not facts. Whenever the joint chiefs of staff show him intelligence reports on Soviet strength, he shrugs them off with the crack: "The Russians aren't 40 feet tall." . . . U. S. Intelligence believes that the man to watch in East Germany is Albert Foster, a former Nazi rabble rouser who has turned Communist. Foster now acting as secret political adviser to the Russian occupation army, is being groomed as the next Communist boss of East Germany.

Movement To Restore Christ To Christmas Gains Support

By CARL OCHS

Dubuque Telegraph-Herald Writer
DUBUQUE, Ia. — A movement to restore the Christ Child to His rightful place as the central figure of Christmas has become nationwide. It began in 1948 when a group of mothers in Dubuque pledged themselves to erect Christmas cribs in their homes.

Last year more than 3,000 homes in Dubuque had nativity scenes as the focal point of Christmas decorations, and letters indicate that thousands who never had cribs plan them this Christmas. The movement also has taken hold commercially.

Mrs. Anthony Eberhardt, who organized the campaign, says stores across the nation will leave more room this year for appropriate religious symbols in Christmas displays.

First action of the Dubuque mothers came almost at the same time as a regional meeting of the Christian Mothers of Pittsburgh, Pa., who had practically the same idea. Letters came in from all over the United States. Answering them keeps her busy the year around.

This year, scores of towns in Iowa will have outdoor religious displays, with all denominations joining to raise funds for them. Evanston, Ill., plans a great religious observance using crib figures. Large Chicago stores will use manger scenes. Milwaukee plans to better its 1952 record of 400 advertising billboards depicting the Nativity scene; 1,700 stores with religious displays or posters and the name of Christ in electric lights on large buildings, bridges and theater marquees.

In Minnesota, Vermont, Washington, Maine, Wyoming, Nevada, Georgia and nearly all the other states will be found cribs erected in parks or on the court house grounds—even on the sidewalks.

But the women who sponsor the idea emphasize cribs for the home. Their plan is simple, a three walled shelter with a floor of straw or evergreen tree branches and figures of the Nativity. The figures may be of plywood cut out with a jigsaw.

Cardboard boxes and cartons also make fine cribs, says Mrs. Eberhardt. Covered with cloth or artificial snow with a few evergreen sprigs here and there, they can be effective, she said. For the children's crib, even a shoebox could do. Figures of the Christ in the manger, Mary, Joseph, the Wise Men and sheep for the tiny crib can be purchased at any dime store.

Mrs. Eberhardt, a writer of short stories and articles, as well as of a novel that will be published in early December, began to write crib articles for religious publi-

Look What They've Printed On Marilyn

By GEORGE TRAINOR

NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Next year's crop of calendars featuring the scantily clad and unclad female form divine are hot off the presses.

But the calendar manufacturers are afraid this is the last year that their products can be shipped legitimately to connoisseurs of garages, barber shops and undertaking establishments all over the country.

The calendar printers with a taste for things pink, feminine and unclad just barely escaped the wrath of conservative U. S. solons during the last session of Congress. Bills which would have prohibited interstate shipment of such calendars got lost in the shuffle of last-minute business.

But next session is going to be different, according to some congressmen. The bills are going to be reintroduced, and a major effort to get them passed is promised. There are rumors that the clothing lobby is also pushing the legislation.

If the anti-scanty faction is successful, a large chunk of the $200 million a year calendar industry will go down the drain.

As things stand now, nude calendars are prohibited from the mails, and printers must resort to the more expensive railway and motor freight services to ship their wares.

Certain recognized purveyors of nudes, however, such as museums, can still use the postal service if they so desire. So can publishers of "art" books and artists whose semi-nude paintings can be as suggestive as the human mind can conceive.

One manufacturer who happens to be the owner of the famous Marilyn Monroe color photo in her pink nothingness has already anticipated unfavorable Congress-sional reaction. He has overprinted a lacy black negligee on her unblemished frame. The shot, he candidly admits, "is our meal ticket — public demand, you know."

"THE LURE OF LACE." That's what the calendar manufacturer calls this picture of Marilyn Monroe. It's the same photo that became famous when issued in its original state, with nothing on Marilyn but flesh color. Now he's gone and overprinted it with lace to avoid Congressional wrath.

The funny part of the whole business is the fact that the pending bills never mention the word "nude." But all the solons know who they're after. They use the words "lewd, lascivious, or obscene" to describe what will be prohibited.

And that's the rub. As F. B. Page of California, the uncrowned king of nude calendar makers said recently, "I simply don't happen to agree that nudity, in itself, is any of these things."

A recent preview of next year's crop shows no significant trends in fashion following those dictated by Paris. The panties are just as short as they've ever been, and the skin is just as pink.

So enjoy them when they come out, brother, because they'll be obsolete art in 1955 if Congress has its way.

So They Say

When people become afraid to speak their beliefs or to defend the innocent or to explore new ideas, then freedom is really in danger.—Ex-President Truman.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

ADVERTISING—The Michigan Municipal Utilities Association, of which Escanaba and 39 other cities in the state are members, has some pertinent information to present in connection with public vs. private electric power.

Among member cities in the Upper Peninsula are L'Anse, Marquette, Newberry, Norway, Stephenson and Wakefield. Downstate Detroit is, of course, the largest city affiliated with the Municipal Utilities Association.

The mimeographed newsletter of the Association, sent to newspapers in member cities, points up the growing threat to municipalities in a publicity campaign being carried on by the private power interests.

Attention of the cities is directed by the Municipal Utilities Association to full page advertisements that appeared in national magazines, citing "two kinds of electricity." The ad was paid for, of course, by the private power companies.

UNBLEMISHED GLOW—The Municipal Utilities Association notes that the impression gained from the ad is that the average American looks askance at "government electricity" but basks "in the unblemished glow of private power."

The private power ad tells readers that "government electricity" is "a step toward government power monopoly—and socialism." The so-called "company electricity," however, "plays a key role in America's free enterprise system."

Concluding the wording of the ad is the following message:

"Taxpayers, business-managed electric companies can provide the electric power America needs. Isn't it extravagant for the Federal Government to spend your tax money to provide it? The answer to that question is important to you. That's why these facts are presented to you by America's Light and Power Companies."

Taken at face value the above sheds considerable light on the electric power outlook in this nation—a light generated in free enterprise but casting certain shadows that should be examined more closely.

ESCANABA'S PLIGHT—First and realistically, let us try to determine why Escanaba has a power shortage; why Gladstone is now preparing to build its own municipal (local government) generating plant; and why the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative Association proposes to build a power plant and has invited Escanaba to become a power customer.

Escanaba has a power shortage because Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, subsidiary of Mead Corporation, does not have sufficient generating capacity to supply its own needs and those of Escanaba, its people, and the industries it serves. Mead Corporation officials have urged the city to look elsewhere for a power source before the present contract expires in 1959.

Gladstone is preparing to construct its own municipal power plant because Mead Corporation also serves that community and has announced that it does not want to renew or extend the power contract.

Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative is asking for a federal loan to construct a power plant because most of its power is supplied by Mead Corporation and the Co-op has been advised (as were Escanaba and Gladstone) to find a new power source. The Co-op invited Escanaba to become its customer for a 10-year period and use "excess" or "surplus" power. Construction of the Co-op's plant is contingent on approval of a federal loan.

FINDING THE ANSWER—From the above it would appear obvious that, despite the advertised statement that "Taxpayers, business-managed electric companies can provide the electric power America needs," the Delta County area is an exception.

Granting that Mead Corporation could do it, it does not want to. Mead wants to "get out of the power business" and expand its paper making industry here and utilize the power now being generated.

The plight of the Delta County area is the "dark spot" in the private power picture. For not one private power company in Northern Michigan or Wisconsin has offered to supply the area with power—although some have hinted the city would benefit if it sold its electric distribution system.

This leaves Escanaba with two alternatives: Public power from its own plant or purchased from the Co-op; or try to coax private power here by offering the city's distribution system as inducement.

Commenting on the private power advertisement, Michigan Municipal Utilities Association reports:

"It is perhaps well that we in municipal electric utilities recognize that ours is 'public power' and in any contest we are in that camp, and that camouflage of the name 'municipality' offers but little concealment."

It isn't safe to brag too much about being bright. That's when you get polished off.

The great crop of fall apples has brought either season back again, but don't take it too hard.

It's getting so that it's easier to make your money first than it is to make it last.

New Patterns Mark Braggiotti Piano Recitals

Mario Braggiotti, who will open the Community Concert season in Escanaba Tuesday evening, Dec. 15, at William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium, explores new patterns in his current piano recitals and solo appearances with the symphonies. And, as in his pioneering days as duo-pianist with Jacques Fray, audiences benefit mightily.

For Braggiotti's musical philosophy is basically a simple one. He is determined that his programs produce something for the enjoyment of every person in his audience.

Accordingly his recital programs follow a course of informality and cordiality as well as artistic worth. A typical program might open with early compositions of little known composers, often arranged in the Braggiotti manner. Then, possibly, a Beethoven sonata, a group of Debussy and a fiery Spanish selection. One of the Garshwin concerti, his own solo piano arrangement may follow, and then came his inimitable caricatures in which he takes well-known American folk tunes and gives them new and humorous life in the style of many composers.

Braggiotti has raised the art of improvisation to new levels and his caricatures sparkle with subtle humor, just as the classics take on life and color and meaning under the fingers of an artist who approaches the piano with refreshing candor and establishes a wholly spontaneous friendship with his audience.

The Community Concert season also will include Todd Duncan, baritone, who will be here Jan. 11 and the Paganini String Quartette, booked for March 30.

Bills Prepared For Legislature

LANSING (AP) — The first three bills for introduction in the 1954 legislature were on public file Friday.

All were filed by Sen. Don Gilbert (R-Saginaw).

One is Gilbert's widely advertised bill to stiffen controls over legislative lobbyists. Another is an amendment to the state inheritance tax and the other is a repetition of the proposed new State Fair Board which was buried in the Legislature last year.

Bitterly critical of legislative lobbyists, Gilbert has proposed that lobbyists be required to register the names of every organization or person employing them and the subjects in which they will be interested during a session.

A somewhat milder lobby law now is on the books.

In the House, 24 bills and three proposed constitutional amendments were filed shortly after the Senate received its first measures. The constitutional amendments would:

Require the removal of any public officer who refused on the grounds of self-incrimination to answer questions about the conduct of his office.

Give the vote to 19-year olds.

Authorize $100,000,000 in state bonds to pay for a Korean War veterans bonus at the base rate of $10 a month for each month served.

Limit speed on state highways to 65 miles in the day time and 50 miles at night.

Provide misdemeanor penalties for failure to remove the doors of discarded refrigerators.

Make incurable insanity grounds for divorce.

Set up a joint pension board, a consolidated department of professional licensing and a consolidated state office of health affairs as proposed by the "Little Hoover" committee.

Friend Of Ex-President Truman Surrenders To Start Term In Prison

ST. LOUIS (AP) — James P. Finnegan, close friend of former President Harry S. Truman, surrendered to begin serving a two-year prison term for official misconduct as an internal revenue collector here.

Genial Jim, as he is known to his associates, walked into the Federal Building with his attorneys to surrender to his lifelong friend U. S. Deputy Marshal Les Davison. They left immediately for the Terre Haute, Ind., prison.

The 52-year-old Finnegan was genial but serious as he posed for pictures and talked to newsmen.

"I know that I have not intentionally committed a wrong," he told newsmen. "I am a victim of circumstances and I hope some day all the facts over which I have no control will be brought to light and establish my innocence."

Finnegan has been at liberty on bond since he was convicted by a jury last year of accepting $8,000 in fees from two firms who had government matters pending at the time. Finnegan was revenue collector at the time.

CIVILIAN AGAIN — Discharged Dec. 5 from the United States Marine Corps, Sgt. Jim E. Creten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Creten, 1401 N. 22nd St., arrived home Wednesday. Sgt. Creten, who went in the Marine Corps in December 1951, was with the Cold Weather Battalion at Bridgeport, Calif., in the High Sierras. Sgt. Creten has a brother, Louis, who was discharged from the Army in February. Another brother, Pfc. Bill Creten, is in the Army and is stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Ann Arbor Gets Atom Congress

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT (AP)—Some of the world's top nuclear research scientists will compare notes at an "international atomic energy congress" in Michigan next summer.

The meeting, called with approval of the State Department, will be a five-day exchange-of-information at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor June 20-25. It is to consider peacetime industrial use of atomic energy.

It may be history's first conference of its kind.

As co-sponsors, the university and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers announced the meeting Thursday.

This was two days after President Eisenhower's plea for an international atomic energy research pool.

However, the proximity of the two was just coincidental. The "congress" had already been months in planning, sponsors said.

Dr. George Granger Brown, dean of the university's engineering school, said he expected Mr. Eisenhower's speech to "give impetus" to the meeting.

Nations of the free world have been invited to send representatives. Ten so far have accepted—Canada, England, France, Belgium, India, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Spain and the Netherlands.

Stiff Milwaukee Wind Has Flung With $825

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The wind had a fling Friday with Mrs. W.T. Van Cleef's money but she recovered entirely from the blow.

A bundle of $825 dropped from her shopping bag as the New York City woman left a grocery store. She didn't notice it but Ray Engel, operator of a bicycle shop across the street, did. The wind dipped into the money and Engel and William Behrens, a cycle salesman from Sheboygan, fast pedaled about the street after flying $20, $10 and $1 bills.

By the time Mrs. Van Cleef, visiting her mother here, discovered her loss and returned to the grocery store in a worried state, Behrens and Engel had all $825 back. They were rewarded with $20.

Rockets Cause Fires

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's Vice Premier charged British forces with firing incendiary rockets on a Suez Canal zone village, setting several houses afire. He reported no casualties. Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser said British armored cars fired 15 rockets on the village of Khawatra Tuesday. The British version of the incident was not available.

Rash Of Robberies

CHICAGO (AP)—A rash of robberies closed police squad sirens screaming in Chicago Friday night. Nearly 50 robberies were committed throughout the city between early evening and 1 a. m. Taverns, grocery stores, cleaning establishments and gas stations were the scenes of most of the holdups.

Korea has 10 major all-weather ports says the National Geographic Society.

Prospects For 4-Year Term Put New Angle In Michigan Politics

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—Politicians seeking public office at next fall's elections may have an even stronger reason than usual for hot campaigning.

That's because, if present plans materialize, the people will be asked to vote at the same election on four-year terms for state and local officials.

And the new four year terms, if approved, would take effect Jan. 1, 1955, the same date the newly elected officials take office.

So the fellow running for office next fall may be running for a four-year term.

Lost By One Vote

And this has lots of possibilities for unusual developments in politics.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), the majority leader in the Senate, says he will press again in the 1954 Legislature for his four-year term plan which was defeated by only one vote in the 1953 session. This year he will have the backing of the "Little Hoover" commission.

Coleman said his 1953 proposal assumed that the four-year terms would start Jan. 1, 1955, and that he sees no reason why it would be any different now.

Part of Coleman's four-year term proposal is based on the theory that state and local elections should fall in between presidential elections so that national issues will not overbalance state issues and personalities.

Candidates Look Ahead

Therefore, if the proposal is to have any meaning, it must start in 1955.

The prospect that the people might order four-year terms next year is having a profound effect on the planning of politicians and probably will have even more as the possibilities of its sink in.

On the state level, for instance, Treasurer D. Hale Brake probably would be even more determined than he is now to stay in the race for governor next year.

Brake, like all of us, is not getting any younger and he could hardly be expected to step aside once more, as he has so often, and take his chances on seeking the governorship in 1958.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary reportedly is having trouble making up his mind whether to run for governor in 1954 or wait until 1956. But if the four-year term goes into effect, Cleary would have to wait until 1958.

Can I Hang On?

It would be only natural for Cleary to ask himself: "Can I maintain myself as a potential candidate for governor for four more years?"

Donald S. Leonard, Detroit police commissioner, is in a similar predicament.

Two years ago he made a strong, if unsuccessful run for the governorship nomination. Lots of folks still remember him as an appealing candidate. He has behind him certain prestige and certain followers because of his Detroit police post—and his chances of publicity which accrue to him there.

But, Leonard must ask himself: "Will the folks remember me in 1958? Can I count on still being police commissioner and in the headlines four years away? Will the guys who are willing to finance me now still be around four years from now?"

Or, take the Democrats. Gov. Williams may be still debating whether to go for governor again or the U. S. Senate.

Too Much Williams

Can't he, holding the office for six years, risk asking the people to elect him governor again when it may mean he will be in the "front office" for ten straight years? Will the people think that is too much?

Presuming that Williams wants to end up in Washington, can he take the chance of continuing as governor until 1958 and then find himself waiting several years to make his senatorial bid? If he resigned in 1956 to run for the senate, what would the people think? Can I—? Do you think—? What would he—?

Those questions roll like dice in politicians' heads as they survey the possibilities.

An accurate prediction of these questions may, in the end, have a lot to do with whether the Legislature decides to put the issue before the people next year.

Ranch Called Communist Training Center Closes

TAOS, N. M. (AP)—San Cristobal Valley Ranch, described last year in government testimony as a Communist indoctrination center, is closed.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Vincent, the operators, announced Friday they were forced to close guest-ranch activities because of a two-year off-and-on battle with anti-Communist investigators.

"Our guest business is a casualty of war and McCarthyism—not of free competition," they said, adding that they would continue their farm and livestock operations.

Harvey Matusow, self-styled FBI undercover agent, said in 1952 that the ranch catered to Communists. The Vincents indignantly denied it.

Budget Up 41 Million

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago City Council Friday approved a record city budget appropriating $407,303,723 for 1954. The amount was approximately 41 million dollars higher than this year's budget. The budget provides for a 5 per cent pay raise for some 25,000 city employees.

Housing Aids Drafted To Encourage Million New Homes Each Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Presidential advisory committee is polishing up a major recommendation to continue basic government housing aids aimed at encouraging a million new homes a year.

The 23-man committee headed by Albert M. Cole, federal housing administrator, worked 2½ months to get its recommendations into shape.

Government, industry and labor sources said the recommendations would cover these major points:

1. Federal—subsidized public housing for low-income groups must be continued.
2. Mortgages should be liberalized, both for low and higher priced homes. Maximum mortgage insured by the government should be raised from the present $16,000 to $20,000 and, in lower price brackets, they should run up to 40 instead of 30 years, to lower payments.
3. The Federal National Mortgage Assn. should gradually be liquidated and replaced by a central mortgage reserve bank operated with private funds in cooperation with the Home Loan Bank board.

Considerable opposition to this recommendation was reported in the advisory committee, particularly among builder - members favoring continued buying of mortgages by a government agency.

Existing programs for modernization of old housing should be expanded, reportedly from the present three to possibly 10 years, and doubling the $2,500 maximum amount the government can insure.

Government - insured mortgages for the purchases of old houses should be liberalized. The mortgage on a new house costing $7,000 can be insured up to 95 per cent. If the house is old, the insurance now can't exceed 80 per cent of the mortgage.

The interest rate on Federal Housing Authority and Veterans Administration home financing should follow a formula geared to variations in the yield of long-term government bonds.

Although night traffic is smaller than day traffic, three out of five fatal accidents occur at night.

Ship Line Loses Sales Tax Suit

LANSING (AP) — The Court of Claims has ruled that the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co. was liable for the state sales tax on food and beverages served on its five ships during 1949.

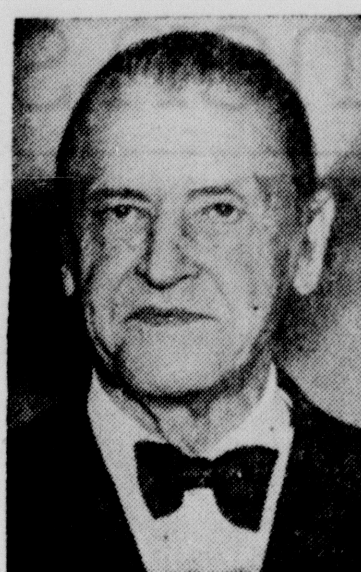

Visiting Circuit Judge Karl Leibrand of Bay City disallowed the D & C's protest that it was operating in interstate commerce and was not subject to the state tax.

The D & C, which no longer operates, paid a $4,018 state sales tax in 1949 but appealed the ruling of the Michigan Department of Revenue.

The company, which used to operate between Detroit and Buffalo, Cleveland, Put-in-Bay and Mackinac Island, said it was impossible to compute accurately the time its ships spent in Michigan waters.

The steamship concern said for example that its boats, in swinging into position in the Detroit River for docking at Detroit, crossed back and forth into Canadian waters three times. It said no one could figure out the tax on food and beverages sold during those instances.

The State contended that it had the power to require the D & C to keep separate books on such sales so that the exact tax could be figured. Officials said that since the exact books had not been kept, the state's estimates would have to be accepted.

Legislature Asked To Extend Deadline On Straits Bridge

LANSING (AP)—The 1954 legislature today was asked to extend the Dec. 31 deadline if necessary on a law setting up a $417,000 annual appropriation for maintenance of the Mackinac Bridge.

The Republican Policy Committee, made up mainly of legislative leaders, asked for the extension. The law expires Dec. 31 if the bonds to finance the building of the bridge are not sold by then.

The Mackinac Bridge Authority has announced it expects to sell the bonds next week. Police committee members said they felt that, since the deadline was pressing so close, a statement from them might assist the bond sale.

Auto Tags Will Be Green-White In '55

As Tribute To MSC

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's auto license plates—bearing the University of Michigan's yellow and blue colors in 1954—will be green and white in 1955 in honor of Michigan State College's 100th anniversary.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary announced he had chosen the green and white plate in deference to the year long ceremonies planned by MSC in 1955 to mark its century of activity.

The 1955 plates will have a new oval lettering and numeral system instead of the present block letter system.

Cleary said the new letters and numerals will be easier to see.

Florida Draws 700,000

DETROIT (AP) — The Automobile club of Michigan estimates that 700,000 from Michigan will visit Florida during 1954. It said an estimated 660,000, traveling in 220,000 cars, will have visited Florida from Michigan by the end of 1953.

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Many home craftsmen are doing finer work in furniture finishing than some professionals, who can't afford to invest the time and pains and still stay in business. The most intricate techniques are now studied and developed in the amateur's modern home workshops.

Yet, it is surprising how few handymen understand the advantages of wet sanding. Apparently they have not watched automobile body workers develop perfect surfaces and high finishes by using soapy water in their between-coat abrasive work.

This type of sanding with the new waterproof production papers was recently referred to in this department. Mention was made of lubricating oil used on varnished wood surfaces for wet sanding, with soap and water recommended for rubbing down finishes on metal.

This got a rise out of J.F.R. of Washington, D. C.

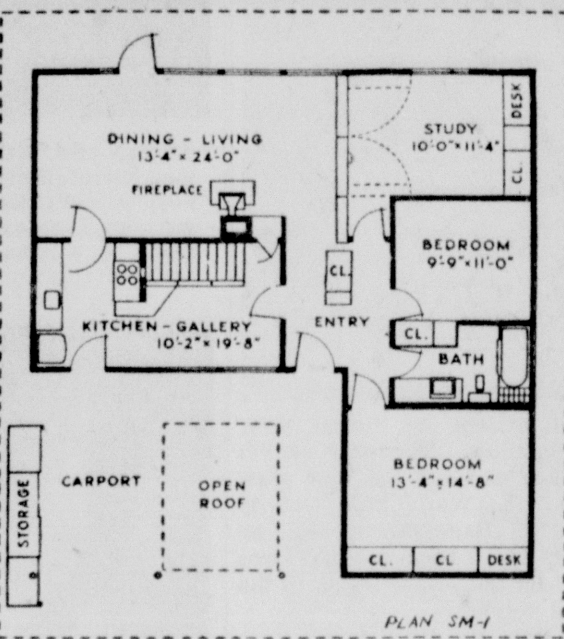

"Heaven help the metalsmith who puts soapy water on metal when sanding," he wrote, "and woe to the poor woodworker who uses lubricating oil when sanding wood—I can just see all the housewives this morning with a can of lubricating oil in one hand and waterproof sandpapers in the other, trying to take out cigarette burns and scratches."

Well, you don't have to take this reporter's word for it. We'll quote an expert—Rog Nestande of the technical department of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing—a company that makes the near-diamond hard crystals used on abrasives.

"Evidently critic J.F.R. has never been in an auto repair shop where quantities of water and waterproof sandpaper are used for finish sanding on all parts of the auto body," Nestande observes. "It would be erroneous, however, to wet sand on bare metal—where, just as in the case with wood, the sanding would be done dry with no need for a lubricating medium. Waterproof production paper is used with soapy water lubricant when sanding the finish, or in-between coats on metal."

Here is how wet sanding comes in for removing a cigarette burn or small scratch on a fine table top:

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A MODERN SHOW HOUSE designed to maintain the same temperature automatically the year-round and incorporating novel ideas. Dotted line on the plan shows wide roof overhangs to shade windows in summer. Living room bookcases swing to merge study with long living room, or close to provide third bedroom. Unusual fireplace, modeled after the historic Franklin stove, can be effectively damped to avoid interference with air conditioning. Carport adjoins large outside storage closets. Dining gallery is enclosed by front window wall and a decorative glass partition around basement stairs. The house was designed by Sherwood, Mills & Smith, architects, (65 Broad St., Stamford, Conn.) working with General Electric engineers and kitchen experts. It was decorated under the supervision of Women's Home Companion. House covers 1,200 square feet. (Further information and blueprints available from the architects.)

gall. The sanded area is then moved.

If the damage is too large or too deep, the entire surface should be refinished. But for a small burn or small scratch, the area can be sanded dry with "very fine" production paper. This sanding is done very lightly, over only the area of the blemish, and is continued until the mar is removed.

IN THE HOME WORKSHOP

The flush finishes and tapered legs of this modern dining table distinguish it at first sight as a strictly custom built job. The top is of walnut-surfaced plywood contrasting smartly with the edge frame and legs which are of light pine. For use in a kitchen alcove or a snack room a move practical top would be one of the bright colored panel materials with plastic chair seats to match. The table is thirty-one and a half inches wide and four feet long. The construction drawings show each member separately and just how they go together. There are also large clear drawings for making the extension slides for those who want to use an extra leaf. The patterns are 22c each. Order 228 for the table and 224 for two types of chairs.

stained to match the original finish. When the stain is dry, a medium-heavy coat of sealer is applied. This is allowed to dry for at least 4 hours. Then the area is dry sanded again with "very fine" grade paper on a rubber sanding block to level the sealer.

You are now ready for the top coat. Since it is very difficult to blend a damaged area perfectly with the surrounding surface, it is usually best to re-coat the whole surface with varnish or lacquer.

When this has dried, wet sanding begins.

Light lubricating oil is used for this process with grade "super-fine" black waterproof sandpaper on a rubber block. This wet sanding will produce a perfectly level and satin-like finish.

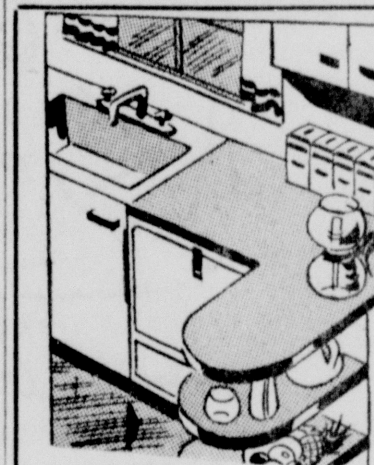

If you want a high luster, rub the entire surface with rotten stone and oil until you get the luster you desire. The surface is then cleaned with a furniture polish and cleaner.

Try it.

Blast Takes Cue

SALT LAKE CITY—Dr. Richard P. Smith was telling his class on the atom and hydrogen bombs what the weapons will do. Just as he was emphasizing the tremendous explosive power of the two bombs, a window-shattering blast rocked the lecture room.

The explosion, it was learned later, resulted from a freshman student's experiment in a chemistry laboratory upstairs.

WEISER, Idaho—City employees decided Thursday to check on the oft-repeated story that there was a message inside the big aluminum ball atop the Weiser flag pole.

The pole was knocked down and broken in half by a truck about two months ago.

Ludwig Kjellberg And Driftwood Turtle

Escanaban Sculpts Driftwood Animals

Ludwig Kjellberg of 1011 6th Ave. S. makes such animals as seals, turtles and birds out of driftwood.

He does no carving but simply fits pieces of driftwood together until he gets them in the right relationship. "They all go together some way or other if you monkey around with 'em long enough."

The driftwood animals do not, as this might suggest, only dimly approximate their real-life counterparts, but are astonishingly vivid likenesses. The hobo life of the driftwood has given each piece unusual characteristics, so that no animal is exactly like another. A turtle lifts a massive knobby head and peers out of an eye Kjellberg provided. A family of seals clusters about its leader—so real the observer almost expects to hear their sharp, Arctic barking.

Kjellberg leaves the driftwood its natural color, waxing it until the soft beige looks silky.

"River Pigs"

The former timber cruiser, now an Upper Michigan Power and Light Co. employee, started his hobby this summer. He was working along the lake and picked up a few pieces of driftwood, he didn't know just why. Later, he said, "I was sitting down in the basement one night and I stuck 'em together."

Getting raw material is no problem. "I know where there's piles of it," Kjellberg said.

Kjellberg was born and raised in Escanaba. "I was just a kid on the tail end of the pine, you might say," he remarked.

He remembered the days when he'd see the "river pigs" coming down the street. This was what the men who drove logs downriver were called. When they'd come down in the spring, Kjellberg said, "Boy, there was something doing around Escanaba!"

There was a hill where Escanaba High School is now and a boy could sleighride down it, overland and down another hill and right out onto the lake, non-stop.

Kjellberg remembered one day when a minstrel show, or perhaps "Uncle Tom's Cabin," came to town. Such shows generally had a parade, with a band marching down the street. "Guess I skipped school that day . . . Running behind them fellows I guess all day."

A Rugged Life

For many years he cruised timber, from 1914 or 1915 into the '20's. This involved looking over woodland and estimating how much timber was on it, prior to a sale—so many fence posts, so many ties, so much cordwood and log timber. "Surprising how close they used to come, after they'd actually cut it," Kjellberg said.

"That's a thing of the past now—oh there's a little of it done but not much—not the way it was then," he said.

Usually four men and a cook would go out on a job, Kjellberg said. The men spent their days on snowshoes in the winter, cooking their food out of doors, over bonfires, and slept in tents. "Rugged! I'll say it was rugged," he declared.

He anticipated his driftwood hobby by making things in the woods—picture frames ash trays, little chairs, doll buggies, and other things. "Just sit there in the woods—you hadda do something, you know."

Kjellberg is married to the former Olga Hanson of Escanaba.

Squirrely Accident Stories Accumulated During Year 1953

By PAUL JONES
Director of Public Information
National Safety Council

So you think you got troubles— that everything happens to you? Well, have you been shot by your lawnmower lately? Or by a rake? Or by a deer?

Have you had to go around wearing a kitchen sink on your finger? Has your little girl driven the family car into the living room?

No? Then down, boy! You haven't had it all. For all those wacky things, and many others, happened in 1953 to people who were just as surprised as you would be if they happened to you.

Take a look at the dizzy doings turned up by the National Safety Council in its annual roundup of odd accidents:

Robert Heinbaugh was cutting the grass in his yard at Painesville, Ohio, when all of a sudden he felt shot—and it wasn't from heat or fatigue. His lawnmower had run over a bullet and plugged him in the big toe.

In Santa Cruz, Calif., John Plumb was shot by a rake he had always regarded as trustworthy. He was raking rubbish into a bonfire. In the rubbish was a shotgun shell. Bang!

Deer Kicks Trigger

And in Payson, Utah, Shirl Kelsey knelt triumphantly beside the deer he had just shot down. The animal kicked defiantly, struck the trigger of Kelsey's gun, and the bullet hit Kelsey in the thigh.

Any hospital attendant will tell you that some patients bring everything with them but the kitchen sink. Four-year-old Joan Williams, of Texarkana, Ark., even brought that! She had to—it was attached to her finger!

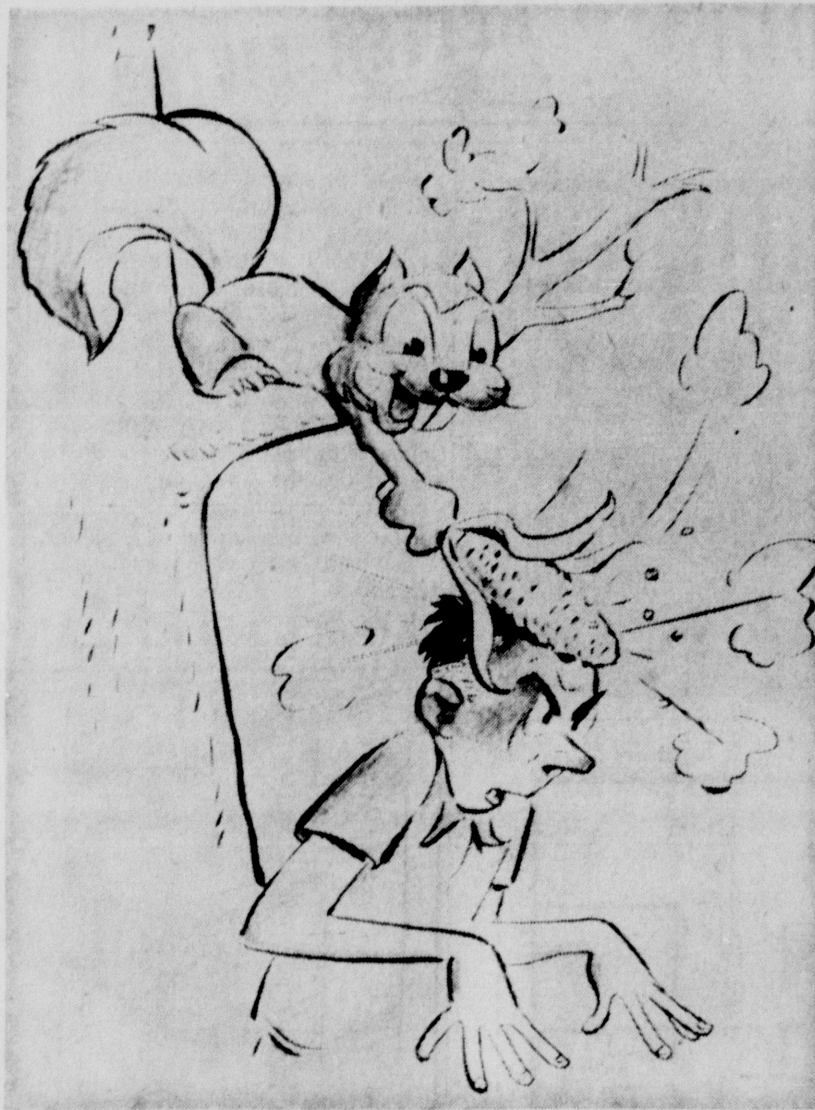

Joan had stuck the finger in the drain of the sink, and it stayed there. After simpler methods failed, her father unbolted the sink and took it and Joan to the hospital. They eventually were separated.

Safety experts do a lot of talking about the minimum age for safe driving. The parents of Mary Jane Rodden can tell them that two and a half years is too young. That's how old Mary Jane was the day she somehow managed to start the family car as it stood in the driveway of the Rodden home in Memphis. She had no place in particular to go, so she drove into the Rodden living room. The only thing not expensively damaged was Mary Jane. She felt fine.

And before you sneer "just another woman driver" at Mary Jane, ponder the case of young Anthony Widby, of Detroit, who got behind the wheel of his family car, started it up and drove it slambing into the home of his next door neighbor. Tony got off scot free with the police, too. Maybe it was because he was only two years old.

Pooch Drives Car

Well, if babies can drive cars,

a real smart animal ought to get away with it too. At least that's what a dog in Lincoln, Nebr., figured. So when Mrs. Jewell Norman left her car with the motor idling, her pet pooch climbed from the back seat into the front, pawed the gear shift a bit, and backed the car accurately and resoundingly into another car. His license has been suspended.

In Memphis, Tenn., J. C. Lightfoot stood beneath a tree on a gentle day and drank deeply of the sunshine and the fresh, clean air. He was struck with the beauty of nature. Then he was struck by something else—an ear of corn dropped with precision and force by a squirrel in the branches above. Mr. Lightfoot left the beauties of nature to go home and nurse a long, deep gash in his head.

Voters are asked to swallow a lot of things in a political campaign, but most of them don't go quite so far as nine-year-old Charles Scheurer, of Mitchell, Ill., did in the last presidential election. He swallowed an "I Like Ike" button and had to go to the hospital to have it removed.

Thirteen-year-old Horace Boutwell, of Houston, Tex., watched breathlessly as Wild Bill Hickok routed the bad men on TV. Then Horace got out his trusty air rifle and blazed away at a .22 caliber rifle bullet resting on a saw horse several feet away. His dead-center shot sent the casing of the .22 cartridge whizzing back into his shoulder. At the hospital he smiled happily. "Let's see Wild Bill top that!" he said.

Civil War Shell Booms

Historians may dispute it, but the last shot of the Civil War was fired in 1953—not in 1865. It happened in the living room of the Ishmael Lynch home in Port Gibson, Miss. A Civil War shell, found long ago on a nearby battlefield, fell from a mantel and exploded, blasting holes in the floor, walls and ceiling. No Union or Confederate casualties.

Historians also will be interested to know that George Washington and Benjamin Franklin met again in 1953—not in Independence Hall, but in Richmond, downtown street.

When Eugene Duda's car jumped the curb and knocked down a Va. Their trucks collided on a lamp post in Windsor, Ont., his girl friend took the blame. "It wasn't his fault," she told police. "I kissed him." Her name? Betty Loveless. After this she probably will.

And in Santa Barbara, Calif., the Coffey-Pott accident really had things perkin'. A car driven by Thomas F. Coffey collided with one driven by Ben Pott. Police grounds!

Charles Carter wasn't the least bit excited as he rushed to the

Burglars Bypass Elaborate Alarm

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (AP)—After two burglaries, management of the Copps Co. rural grocery store, wired all doors and windows with a new alarm system. In a third burglary nearly $4,000 was stolen. The alarm system was bypassed when the thieves chopped a hole in the roof and lowered themselves into the store.

hospital to see his brand new baby daughter. The only reason he walked through the new glass front of the Washington County hospital in Hagerstown, Md., he insisted, was because he was dazzled by the bright lights in the hospital lobby.

Bats His Own Jaw

And in the same city—Hagerstown, Md.—17-year-old Donald Springer made a hit all right—but he didn't get to first base. He took a big swing at the ball, missed it, and hit his jaw so hard he fractured it.

Police get used to almost anything in the way of traffic accidents. But even they were impressed when a rowboat crashed into an automobile at Holland, Mich. High winds picked the boat out of Lake Michigan and hurled it into the side of the car on a lakefront road.

When Joe Fee fell from the top of a tree he was pruning in Portland, Ore., he didn't get a scratch. But his wife did. She got a lump on the head, a bruised hand and other injuries. He landed on her.

And in New Orleans, young Carners Harris had too much bounce to the ounce as he jumped up and down on a sofa in his third-floor apartment. He bounced right out an open window into a sand pit 45 feet below. The soft sand and the hard stamina of a rugged four-year-old boy enabled him to escape with minor injuries.

Lucky Tumble

Day Ray, of Miami, Fla., was burned and injured in a fall from his front porch, but he still figures he was lucky. He fell asleep while smoking and awoke with his clothing in flames. In the resulting confusion he fell off the porch, landed on a water faucet and broke it. The stream of water put out the flames.

Many a man has been saved, as the saying goes, by the seat of his pants. But none perhaps so literally as David Causey, of Tuscaloosa, Ala. Causey's car went out of control and came to rest hanging over a railroad overpass. Causey was thrown out. The seat of his trousers snagged on the underpart of his car, and he was left dangling 60 feet above the railroad tracks. "Best seat I ever had," he told his rescuers.

In Grand Rapids, Mich., lightning struck a furniture factory and started a fire. A minute later a second bolt struck a fire alarm box in the factory, set off the alarm and brought four engine companies to put out the blaze.

Keep Smiling!

Seymour Korn unfortunately did not get to see the safety parade he had helped arrange for the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C. As Mr. Korn made a last-minute checkup of a float, an artificial tree fell over and bopped him on the head. By the time the doctors had fixed him up, the parade was over.

And in Lakewood, Calif., Eugene Peete, a careful man, decided to stay home over the Fourth of July and avoid the hazards of holiday traffic. He did deem it safe to inspect his lawn. Bending over to admire a tender shoot, he was knocked flat by a brass pressure cap which had shaken loose from a passing plane.

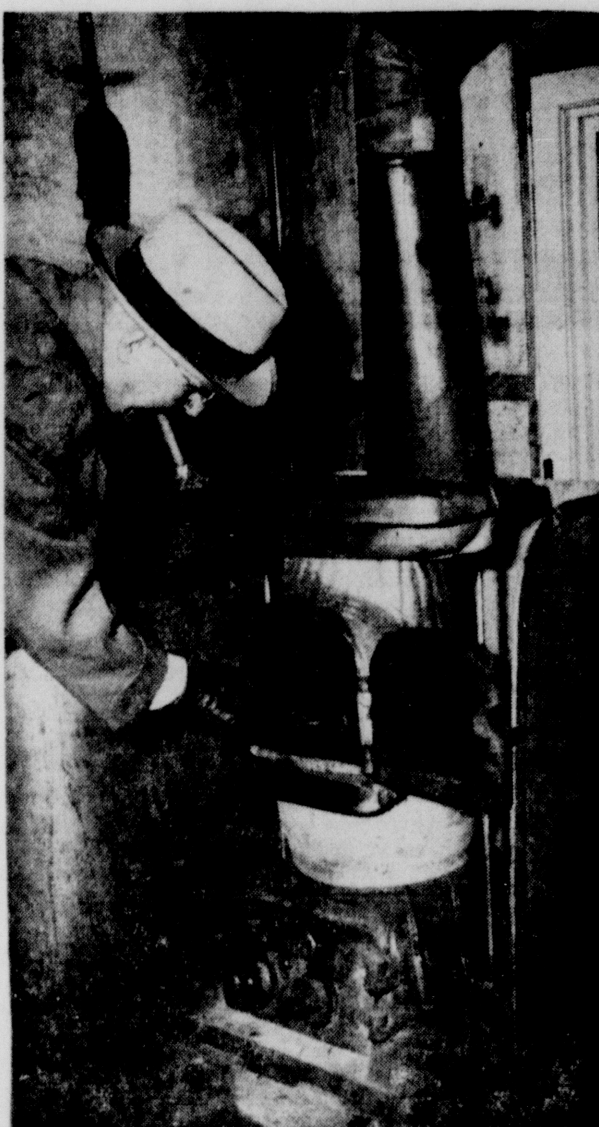

So you think you got troubles—that everything happens to you? Just keep on smiling, bub, and be glad for the humdrum life you live!

The Potato Special

ESCANABA ROTARIANS and other businessmen were guests of Cornell farmers at the annual venison dinner sponsored by Delta potato growers Tuesday night. The trip to Cornell was made by a special Escanaba and Lake Superior train of slightly less than modern vintage. This picture shows Elmer Peterson, Gladstone teacher pinch-hitting as train conductor, telling an interesting story to Wm. Warrington, Dr. Wm. Harrison, Hagle Quarnstrom and Melvin Nyquist.

WARM IT UP—Robert Rose of the E&LS Railroad stokes the pot fire that provided warmth to the passengers enroute to Cornell.

AT CORNELL — Ed Marenger displayed his nimble fingers on the keyboard while Dr. Vernon Johnson, Escanaba dentist, rang forth with some lively singing.

'Burtons Of Broadway' Tour U.S. Air Bases In Far North

An eight weeks' entertainment tour of the U. S. Northeast Air Command is the latest experience of Mrs. Phil Burton, widely known professional entertainer, who will be remembered in Escanaba as Dorothy Elaine Jensen, daughter of Mrs. John McMartin of 402 S. 18th St.

Dorothy and her husband who are "The Burtons of Broadway" are impersonators of Hollywood stars. They arrange their show with the cooperation of the leading figures in movieland.

The Burtons had headquarters at the Pepperell AFB at St. John's in Newfoundland.

Near North Pole

The Command, Dorothy said, in describing her tour to her mother at a recent holiday family reunion held in Goshen, Ind., has no actual boundary lines but operates throughout Newfoundland, Labrador, Canadian Northeast Territories and Greenland, an area as large as the entire United States.

Among the bases at which she and her husband entertained were Pepperell, Sondrestrom, Goose Bay, Labrador, Narsarsuaq, Greenland and Thule. Thule is 900 miles from the North Pole.

"The weather really gets cold there," she said. "We were there in October and our lowest temperature was 56 degrees below and our highest, 36 degrees below. We could hear icebergs groaning and the wind howling all the time. At present they have complete darkness 24 hours a day."

Air Transportation

"The only means of transportation is by air. We flew in Douglas C-54 Skymasters and Douglas C-47's, the first plane to dare landing and taking off at the North Pole."

"The army furnished us with warm uniforms with parka hoods and parachutes for emergency landings. Our meals were excellent and our sleeping quarters comfortable. We even had hot water for baths! There were 36

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Burton

entertainers in our group, all guests at the Officers Quarters. "We enjoyed this overseas trip," she continued, "and we know our audience enjoyed having us come so far to give them entertainment which they long for and deserve. Morale is high, even though service men are isolated. They have bowling alleys, gymnasiums, post exchanges, theatres, in fact, about everything a stateside base has in the way of facilities."

Buildings On Piling

"The buildings are set on wooden piling and raised above the ground so that the heat in the buildings will not affect the frozen foundation."

"One thing we missed was trees. They do not grow north of Labrador or in Greenland." Dorothy and her husband enlisted in the army in 1946 for USO entertainment for two months of each year. This was their first overseas tour. Other years they played base theatres and hospitals.

"We have heard that we may go to Korea on our next tour," Dorothy told her mother, "and I hope it is true. I really am looking forward to that."

Lutheran Sunday School 'Adopts' Finnish Child

A little Finnish girl, whose father was killed in the Russo-Finnish war, is the adopted "sister" of children of Bethany Lutheran Sunday School in Escanaba.

She is Ritva Marila, now is 14, and she has been supported by the Bethany Sunday School contributions since 1946, through the "Save the Children" Federation.

Her sister, Raita, is supported by the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Garber who live in Decatur, Ga., where the pastor is Presbyterian professor at Agnes Scott College.

Of interest here is the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seisola, parents of Miss Sirkka Saarelainen, who now reside in Escanaba at 1023 6th Ave. S., lived only a few blocks from the home of Ritva and Raita and their mother, Mandi Marila at Heinavesia, Kunnalliskoti, Finland.

Ritva at present is with her grandmother at Lahti where she attends school. A recent report card shows that she is one of the best students in her class.

She has one very dear wish which she mentions often in her letters. That is to visit Escanaba some day and see her many friends here.

Mountaineers Tip Eskymos 63-55 In Rugged Contest

The Escanaba Junior High gym was in constant bedlam here last night as a rough and rugged Iron Mountain Mountaineer quint decisively won the Escanaba Eskymos 63-55.

The Mountaineers got off to an 11-1 lead in the opening minutes of the game, and they needed every point of it as the Eskymos came back fighting to make a game of it right down to the final whistle. The game was marred by constant fouling and numerous tangles on the court. Iron Mountain's go-go-go style of play mixed with an aggressive group of ball hawks caused considerable contact during the game. The Mountaineers were charged with 25 fouls. Escanaba players drew 23.

Bolm Cuts Lead

Their fast start in the first period gave the visitors a 17-8 lead at the end of the quarter. Escanaba's Jim Bolm clicked for four buckets and a free throw in the second period to hold the deficit to 32-22 at the half time.

The Eskymos shaved the lead to nine points, 46-37, going into the final period. And in the last quarter the Mountaineers needed a steady stream of free throws to stave off the determined Eskymos. Escanaba outscored the Mountaineers 14-8 from the field in the last quarter but Iron Mountain connected on nine of 14 free throw attempts to Escanaba's four of five. With three minutes left in the game Escanaba had cut their margin to 53-49.

Loss of Bill LeMire and Jim Finn, starting forwards, hurt Escanaba's chances in the final two minutes of play. The Eskymos were also without the services of reserve Mike Heminger who had fouled out midway in the third period.

Four Lead Eskymos

The Eskymos had four players scoring in double figures with Tom Gregoire and LeMire hitting 12, Bolm 11 and Finn 10.

High point honors went to 6-3 Dave Lundell, smooth Iron Mountain center, who scored 24. Dick St. Arnaud pitched in 17 for the winners.

The Escanaba Bee team turned in a 51-26 victory over the Iron Mountain Jayvees in the preliminary game.

The loss leaves Escanaba with a 2-2 record thus far this season. The Eskymos play their final game before the Christmas holidays next Friday at Ishpeming.

PERKINS — The Perkins cage team unleashed a phenomenal scoring barrage last night to bury Engadine 110-30 in a non-league outing.

Playing with only six men on the varsity in the absence of Joe Vandecavey, Perkins took a 23-7 lead in the first period, added 23 points in the second, 32 in the third and 32 in the final to post the highest single-game total in the Upper Peninsula this season.

Nahma Arrows Rally To Edge Trenary 52 To 48

TRENARY — The Nahma Arrows overcame an 18-point halftime deficit here last night to defeat Trenary 52-48 in a Central League clash.

With four regulars still missing from the lineup because of disciplinary action, Nahma's rebuilt quint surged into contention with 24 points in the third period.

They still trailed 43-40 entering the final period but outscored Trenary 12-5 to cop the verdict.

Center Don Groleau led the fired-up Arrows with 19 points while Trenary's Nance paced the losers with 12.

The win was the fourth against two defeats for Coach Harold Anderson's defending Class E champions.

Hermansville Nips Powers In Double Overtime By 56 To 54

HERMANSVILLE — Coach Don Hill's keyed-up Redskins pulled a double-overtime victory out of the hat here last night, edging Powers 56-54, in a Little Seven Conference thriller.

The score was tied 46-46 at the end of regulation time and 50-50 in the first overtime. Hermansville broke a 54-54 knot when Eugene Stockero drove in for the deciding layup.

Hermansville had a rebounding edge on the taller Powers quint to make the difference in the game. John Farley, sophomore guard, was the sparkplug, tying up the lanky Tigers time after time while Raphael Faccio, another guard, set the scoring pace with 17 points.

Big Jim Sargent, Powers center, took scoring honors for the night with 23 points.

Hermansville switched from a zone to a man-to-man defense in the first period to control the play. Powers had to come from behind, 24-18, at the half with an 18-point spurt in the third period to get back in the ball game.

Powers copped the Bee team preliminary, 41-40 in another hectic clash.

FINN SINKS ONE—Escanaba's Jim Finn flips up a shot in the third quarter of the Eskymo-Mountaineer basketball game here last night. The Eskymos fought back after an early 11-1 deficit to chase the visiting Mountaineers down to the final wire before losing 63-55. Waiting for a possible rebound in the foreground are Dick St. Arnaud of Iron Mountain and Jim Bolm of Escanaba. (Daily Press Photo)

Emeralds Lose To Braves; Face St. Joe Here Tonight

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Emeralds saw a four-point half-time lead shrink and then disappear here last night as they lost a 56-48 Great Lakes Conference contest to the Gladstone Braves.

Manistique will be seeking its first win in four starts tonight when they play at the St. Joe gym, starting at 8:30.

The Emeralds had command early in the game and at one point in the second period boasted a 10-point margin on the scoreboard.

But Coach Eldon Keil's Braves staged a torrid rally in the opening minutes of the third period and pulled steadily away from Coach Rudie Brandstrom's quint.

Manistique led 30-26 at the beginning of the third period. But with Duane Peterson spearheading the attack, the Braves whittled that lead to nothing and then moved out in front 35-30 before Manistique could find the range again.

From then on it was Gladstone all the way. They never lost that lead and they slowed the pace in the final period to win comfortably.

When they invade the St. Joe gym tonight the Emeralds will be going up against a Trojan quint that has won three straight games after dropping the opener to Escanaba's Eskymos.

In starting roles for the host Trojans will be Dave Hirt at center, John Berrigan and Dick Cass.

RESERVE SEATS

Reserved seat tickets for the Manistique-St. Joe game at the Bonifas gymnasium tonight may be ordered at the St. Joseph rectory. It was announced today by Fr. Stephen Schneider, athletic director.

at forwards, and Jim Zimmerman and Jerry McDonough at guards. A preliminary game will begin at 7 between the Bee teams of the two schools.

The Gladstone Bee team copped last night's preliminary game by a 55-25 margin.

SAULT STE. MARIE — Plans for expanding facilities for serving the public by utilizing additional space available in the library building's basement were announced today by the Sault Ste. Marie Carnegie Public Library Board. The library's enlargement program, a spokesman for the board said, will create three additional rooms — two large ones and one smaller one — simply by covering space now being used for storage purposes.

MARQUETTE — John Miskiewicz, West Washington St., is the newest member of the Marquette National Guard unit. John's enlistment is not simply a routine matter, for he happens to be a Polish displaced person who spent two years in a concentration camp in Chemnitz, Germany. A 17-year-old junior at Baraga High School, Miskiewicz came to the United States in May, 1949, with his family.

IRON MOUNTAIN — Thursday for the first time, the new Carillon bells donated to the Iron Mountain high school in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cudlip, by members of their family, sounded clearly over the community and district, adding a tuneful and appropriate note to the holiday season.

NORWAY — Lee Ruwitt, formerly of Norway, and general manager of WTVJ-TV at Miami, Fla., is hailed as one of the country's most promising young television executives in a recent issue of the Broadcasting - Telecasting magazine. For the second straight year, the Miami station has been awarded the nations top television award by the World-Wide Television News Directors' association.

IRON RIVER — The Iron county board plans to advertise early in the new year for bids on construction of a two-story vault annex to the courthouse at Crystal Falls.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Omer Groleau, who passed away 1 year ago Dec. 13, 1952.

Deep in our hearts you are today remembered.
Sweet, happy memories cling 'round your name.
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection
Always will love you in death just the same.
We often sit and think of you, when we are alone.
For memory is the only friend, that grief can call its own.

Sadly missed by Husband, Children and Grandchildren.

GLADSTONE

Hospital Fund Drive Reaches $25,000 Mark

Contributions and pledges to the Gladstone Community Hospital Fund at present approximates $25,000.00, it was revealed at a meeting of the Fund Committee Thursday evening at the City Hall.

The two largest contributions to date were announced at the meeting. These were for five hundred dollars each from the J. C. Penney Co., and the Escanaba Local 110 International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers.

It was learned from H. T. Brewer, manager of the Gladstone Penney Store, that there will be an additional amount from the employees which will bring the contribution to an expected $700.

To Ask $50,000

Myron O. (Mike) Goodman, chairman of the fund drive in Gladstone, suggested the City of Gladstone be asked to contribute $50,000.00 to the project. Goodman said he believed the matter should be placed before the City Commission and if necessary a referendum should be had on the matter.

It was Goodman's opinion that such a contribution would show Gladstone to be firmly behind the project and would go a long way toward assuring the success of the fund drive.

Commissioner Adam Sinclair, who serves as a co-chairman on the fund committee, said he believed a vote of the people would be necessary in the matter.

Work Slowed

Letters are being sent to all business houses, industries and organizations advising them of the fund drive and that a solicitor will call in the near future. A. J. Robare advised.

The drive which slowed down because of the hunting season and then the holidays will get going in earnest again in January, it was stated.

It was also disclosed that a house-to-house canvass of Escanaba as well as the townships is planned by the fund committee.

Approval was given and bids will be sought. Deadline on the bids will be 10 a. m., on Thursday, Jan. 14. Ten items of equipment are included.

An architect's conception of the electric plant to be built here was submitted to the commission and there was considerable discussion as to type of construction without a decision being reached. Whether it should be of masonry or steel or a combination of both is under consideration.
